BOOSTING OLIVE OIL INDUSTRY PROPOSED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Boosting the olive oil industry in northern Africa in order to increase the importation into that section of the world of American cotton seed oil, is advocated by Erwin W. Thompson, a commercial agent of the department of commerce, in a reply to the department, made public today.

Mr. Thompson advocates the introduction of modern American machinery and the education of the natives in the production of a higher grade of olive.

"The natives will sell the high-grade olive abroad at excellent prices," said Mr. Thompson, in advancing his novel idea for trade advancement, "and will then import cheaper oils for their own use."

This "carrying of coals to Newcastle" is considered by the department experts as worthy of investigation. The suggestion is contained in a special report made by Mr. Thompson on "edible oils in the Mediterranean district," which treats of the oil manufacturing industry in France, Morocco, Algeria and Tunis.

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat also take glass of Salts before eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

OFFICIAL NOTE

Huerta Claims He Has Complied With Governmental Laws in Every Respect.

FORESAW ANARCHY

Congress to Pass on Validity of President and Vice-Presidential Election.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Secretary Bryan made public last night the text of the note presented by the Huerta provisional government last night to the foreign diplomats in Mexico. The note, which was signed by Querido Moheno, minister of foreign relations, follows in full:

"In conformity with provisions of article 81 of the constitution and in view of the lack of a president or vice president and of the secretary of state and of the department of foreign relations, Provisional Presidency devolved upon the secretary of state and of the department of Gobernacion, General Huerta, who from that time by the ministry of the law, has discharged the duties of the office. This in accord with the will of the Mexican people formally, made manifest in the constitution of February 5, 1875, there remained established the president succession and the unquestionable legality of the present government. The congress of the union and the supreme court of justice of the nation solemnly recognized without objection the new ruler. In this way the three branches of the government continued the functions by whose conduct the Mexican people exercise the national sovereignty in accordance with articles 29 and 50 of the same constitution. The political program of the provisional government, constituted in this manner from that time, has been defined perfectly and concentrated on two fundamental propositions: To re-establish peace in order that extraordinary elections might be held in compliance with the already cited article 81 of the constitution in order to turn over the executive power to the one designed by the popular will at these elections and to respect and make respected the law.

Issued Election Call. In compliance with this program, the executive launched a call for elections, taking care that there should be fixed for their holding a time which he deemed prudent, not only that the preparatory work might be carried out, but also that the republic might return to a state of order which had been deeply disturbed. In some of the northern frontier states and also, though in a much less degree, in other states. Acting in accord with the initiative of the executive and in compliance with the constitutional precept quoted, the congress of the union evoked special elections to be held October 26, past, since it was believed, by that time peace successfully would be established in all the republic and fair elections guaranteed.

Respects Governmental Powers. "In order to comply with the second of these proposals the executive made clear his respect for the other governmental powers, but, unfortunately one of the houses of the legislative power, the chamber of deputies, attempted in such manner to invade the prerogatives of the executive as to refuse in some cases to recognize the judicial power, and the conduct of some of the members who are shielded by their constitutional exemption from arrest, publicly were fomenting and even leading the armed rebellion, reached such a pass as to make impossible harmonious action with the executive without which any government would go to pieces. The president of the republic was forced to determine to dissolve the chamber of deputies as a necessary measure for the salvation of the republic, foreseeing as he did, the state of anarchy which inevitably would have been brought about if he had continued to tolerate revolution in the midst of one of the constituted branches of the government. As the senate alone could not function constitutionally he declared the congress dissolved. But as it has never been the proposal of the executive to govern outside the constitution, he took care immediately to convene elections, to constitute a new congress and solely in the meantime assumed extraordinary faculties in the departments of hacienda, gubernacion and war, where such action was indispensable and this was done with the solemn promise to give account of the use which he has made of such powers to the new congress as soon as it shall be installed.

Upholds Judicial Power. "It also was a motive of especial care and attention of the interim government to respect and uphold the judicial power which continued without any let in its august mission of seeing that individual guarantees of the public administration has continued without other obstacles than those which a state of internal strife, which even yet prevails in some portions of the republic, perforce brings with it.

The elections of president and vice president of the republic and of deputies and senators to the congress of the union already have been held. Congress will be installed within a few days and in accord with the constitution will pass upon the election of president and vice president and will render a decision as to their validity or nullity. At the approach of the date fixed in the call for the holding of elections, the president of the republic learned that his numerous friends were putting him forward for the first magistracy, and as in accordance with article 78 of the constitution he could not be elected legally, in a desire to avoid erroneous or malevolent interpretations, and as there was not time to make known his views to the friends who were putting his name forward, he made a most solemn declaration before the honorable members of the diplomatic corps, accredited near the government of this republic, that the votes deposited for him in the ballot boxes would be null and of no value and that even in the event, legally impossible, that the new congress should declare him elected president, he would not accept the office.

Huerta a Patriot. "The first magistrate, inspired by his patriotic zeal, called together the candidates of the various parties, contenders in the electoral struggle and in a solemn ceremony in the presence of the entire cabinet, repealed the declarations made before the diplomatic corps and called upon the candidates in the name of patriotism, of which they gave unquestionable proof, that they manifested solemnly before the nation, that if anyone of them should be appointed by the popular vote, all the others should collaborate morally and patriotically, influencing their partisans that the president elect should be respected and assisted in his functions, whatever might be his party affiliation. And this they did, at the same time manifesting to the Mexican people that if none of the candidates obtained the number of valid votes to be president of the republic, all would co-operate to sustain the constituted government to the end that the popular will be counseled at a more propitious time; that is to say, when peace in the republic would permit citizens in all parts of the country freely to cast their votes.

"Now in view of the fact that through reports which the government has received, there exists a vehement presumption that because of it having been possible to carry on the voting in the number of polling places prescribed by law so that the election may be considered as the true manifestation of the will of the people, and it is foreseen that said presidential election will be declared null, he wishes to make known once more to the country and to the whole world that, in accord with his determination, he will continue exercising himself for the pacification of the country in order to be able to guarantee the absolute freedom and efficiency of the new elections which congress must call. As a necessary consequence of that declaration, in the same manner he wishes to make known once more before friends and outsiders that, being respectful toward the law and persuaded that by virtue of his having occupied the post of president of the Republic, while the election was being held he considered himself constitutionally impeded from being validly elected he will on no account take into consideration the votes which may have been cast in his favor, and no matter what may be the resolution of congress he will not accept in this case the constitutional presidency of the republic.

Sure Harmony Will Reign. "Relying as the president does rely upon the solemn and important offer of the honorable citizens who figured as candidates for the presidency and vice presidency and who represent all the political parties of the republic, sure that the most perfect harmony will reign between the three powers of the union and that the governments of the world will recognize without exception that only the present government can call new elections and guarantee their freedom and efficacy, he hopes to fulfill easily within the period which congress shall designate his sacred duty of consulting the national desire to consecrate by the suffrage of the people the executive who is to rule definitely the destinies of the country. Otherwise the realization of the executive program would not be possible within a long period of time. This program consist of peace and legality, which are the only mediums in which the elections may become the expression of the true popular will in which the individual native as well as foreigner may enjoy full guarantees and in which the economic development of the republic may permit all Socialists to gather the fruits of their labors and the products of their capital.

By indication of the constitutional president, ad interim, of the republic, General Victoriano Huerta and with the unanimous approval of the cabinet formed by Lics Manuel Garcia Aldape, Nemesio Garcia Naranjo, Rafael Rebollar, Jose Maria Lozano and Adolfo de la Lanza, as well as General Aurelio Blanquet and Lic. Augustin Garcia Galindo, sub-secretary of justice, now charged with the administration of that office, have the honor to acquaint the highly esteemed government of your excellency through your excellency honorable office with this general Orientation of the policy of the government of the republic, to the end that all of the cultured countries by whose friendship Mexico is honored may do the executive the justice of recognizing that his honest and patriotic effort is intended solely to bring about the well being and prosperity of the Mexican republic.

"I have the satisfaction of renewing to your excellency on this occasion, the assurance of my distinguished consideration."

Don't Let Your Hair Spoil Your Good Looks

Take the right care of your hair and instead of spoiling your good looks, it will improve them. You can't beautify your hair with barrettes, ribbons and such things. Knockdowns make homely hair look even worse, because the contrast shows off its ugliness to greater effect.

If you want beautiful hair—soft, silky, lustrous and glossy—use Harmony Hair Dressing, a dainty, liquid hair dressing. Use it also if you want your hair to go into place—in wavy, graceful fashion—more easily, and stay where you put it. It overcomes the unpleasant, oily odor with a delightful rose fragrance. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

RITCHIE GIVEN THE DECISION

Madison Square Garden, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, tonight outpointed Leach Cross of New York in ten rounds of the fiercest milling ever seen in this city.

Both men fought like wounded lions from the tap of the gong and Ritchie won only through his showing in the last two rounds of whirlwind battling, during which he landed some terrific punches against the face and body of Cross.

The fight was perhaps the bloodiest ever staged in New York, one in which both men were covered with blood from the waist down for the fourth round on, and one so fast and furious that the crowd was on its feet yelling like madmen during every moment of the fighting.

The first and seventh rounds were even. The second, fifth and eighth went to Cross, while Ritchie won out in the third, fourth, sixth, ninth and tenth, but only by slight margins except in the third, when he scored a clean knockdown, one for the count of nine and followed with another for the count of three. In this third round Ritchie sent Cross to the mat and he had barely got to his feet when the champion drove him against the ropes and sent him to the mat again, accomplishing both tricks with lefts to Cross' jaw.

Cross Knocked Down. To many it looked as though Cross in going to the mat was executing a bit of his famous stalling. The smashes Ritchie sent against his rival's jaw looked like they were powerful enough to fell an ox. Cross, however, showed wonderful recuperative powers after his second knockdown and rushed Ritchie with the fury of a madman.

have brought the championship to New York, but Cross lacked the Morpheus wallop.

Both men began the final round as badly battered up as any man that ever swapped punches, but each made a game, desperate effort, swinging every ounce of their strength into play. For half the round it seemed an even affair, but Ritchie's endurance powers won the round and the fight for him. Had Cross been able to stem the Ritchie onslaught in the final ninety seconds of the tenth he would have earned a draw.

Cross was first to enter the ring followed a few seconds later by Ritchie. The Cross supporters gave their idol a rousing welcome and then accorded an equal ovation to Ritchie.

The announced weights were: At 9 p. m., Ritchie, 134 1/4; Cross, 134 1/2; ringside weights were announced: Ritchie, 137; Cross, 137.

The crowd was something of a disappointment to the promoters. It was expected that the Garden would be filled to its capacity. The $1 galley seats and the $10 ringside boxes were jammed, but many of the intermediate priced seats were vacant when the fight began. It looked like an $800 crowd.

In the first preliminary a six-round affair, Willie Doyle, weighing 120 pounds, outpointed Jimmy Taylor, 118. The second preliminary, also a six-round slambang fracas went to Johnny Rees, 124 pounds, who slightly shaded Joe Mooney, weighing 124 pounds. In the semifinal, Walter Brooks, 126 pounds, in a fast and furious ten-round bout.

nell, Vassar, Smith, Wellesley, Mount Holyoke and other colleges, have applied for membership, it is declared. The association plans to go in first for bowling, gymnastics, swimming, basketball, fencing and fancy dancing, but may later extend to field sports.
